Program Overview

The Young Conservation Professionals Leadership Program takes place over the course of one calendar year and requires a minimum time commitment of approximately eleven weekdays. This includes:

- Three residential retreats (three days, two nights) focused on personal and professional leadership development
- A minimum of four (maximum of six) workshops throughout the year focused on key management skills; most workshops will be delivered online, with a couple of in-person learning opportunities

Program participants will gain:

- Increased knowledge and understanding of leadership and management practice
- Deepened understanding of individual leadership styles and innate strengths as managers and leaders
- Improved interpersonal communication skills
- Improved ability to set effective, outcome-focused goals
- Enhanced confidence to lead in both personal and professional contexts
- Increased motivation and ability to manage teams and complex projects
